Jordi Alcaraz
Calella, 1963

Jordi Alcaraz's discourse starts from the classical tradition of painting and sculpture to reach a reflection on volume, language and time through the use of different materials such as methacrylate, pigment, stone, glass, etc.

In his artistic language predominates the visual transgression, the game of different looks and the conjugation of transparencies and holes that allow to glimpse hidden, magical spaces. Thus Jordi Alcaraz establishes, through his works, an unprecedented and metaphorical relationship with the world.

With drawing and gesture as a starting point in his latest works, he delves into the exploration, almost obsessive, of the artist's work: drawing, sculpting, painting..., always through his peculiar treatment of materials, and the playful character of his work, focusing more on the exercise of doing, and not on the work as the end of that action.

Jordi Alcaraz breaks the material in different ways, evocative or sharp. Layers of materials are superimposed like protective shields, and build different complex layers of meanings.

Jordi Alcaraz

His artistic career begins in the field of sculpture and engraving. He exhibits regularly in galleries in Madrid, Barcelona, Cologne, New York, Los Angeles, Berlin, Trieste and Zurich. He has exhibited in institutions such as Sala Tecla, Fundacion Telefonica, Los Angeles Art Museum, Musee Reattu in Arles or Boghossian Foundation in Brussels.

His works are in collections such as Biedermann Museum, Donaueschingen, Germany; Fontanal Cisneros Collection, Miami; Williams Collection, Massachusetts; Olor Visual, Barcelona; or Fundación Banco Sabadell.
